DETAILED ACTION

Double Patenting

1. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

2. Claims 1-17 are provisionally rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-32 of copending Application No. 10/649,355. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the copending application claims a pellicle frame thermally bonded to a reticle via an intervening polymeric layer.

It would have been obvious for one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to use a known thermoplastic polyester adhesive (claim 17) as the bonding layer.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 1-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over KALK ET AL (US 6,841,312).

KALK ET AL discloses a pellicle frame securely bonded to a reticle via an intermediate thermoplastic adhesive layer, and a method of bonding said frame to said reticle using said polymeric adhesive and heat, wherein the heating is localized to the adhesive and frame portions. (lines 25-27, 35-52, col. 2; line 48-55, col. 4; line 6-55, col. 5; line 17-27, col. 6)

It would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to select the melting point of the polymeric adhesive (claim 2-3, 10-11) depending on the desired bonding conditions and materials used in the other components. It would have been obvious to apply light pressure during the bonding process (claim 4, 13) in order to secure the frame in position during the bonding process and/or to aid the flow or spreading of the adhesive. One of ordinary skill in the art would have trimmed the polymeric adhesive bead layer to fit the exact dimensions of a given pellicle frame (claim 7).
